

Stop Not Till the Goal Is Reached: The 10 Principles for Fearless Success That Inspired Maha Sinnathamby to Build a City

From humble origins as a Sri Lankan raised on a small rubber estate in war-ravaged Malaysia, Maha Sinnathamby migrated to Australia some 40 years ago and has faced countless obstacles and many failures. Yet through fierce determination, unrelenting drive, sheer hard work, and extraordinary vision, he has an enduring legacy of community-building achievements to his name and was listed within BRWs 50 Most Wealthy Australians in 2011. In 1992 Mahas private, under-capitalised firm purchased 2,860 hectares of inhospitable, inaccessible land in an economically depressed region of Queensland, Australia. Two decades later, despite innumerable setbacks, Springfield has emerged as Australias largest privately-owned, master-planned city; and is a striking example of whats possible when you design a city exclusively around the needs of the community. Stop Not Till the Goal is Reached explores the 10 principles for fearless success that have guided Maha throughout his life. It explains the principles through Mahas personal journey and provides other examples of astonishing achievements from around the world.
